Nifty opened on a positive note and managed to close at 24,773 (+0.13%), but the session saw profit booking from higher levels, keeping it below the falling trend line resistance around 24,860 (Fib 61.8%). The index is holding above its short-term averages, while the RSI at 49 reflects a neutral momentum, showing hesitation near resistance. Immediate support is placed around 24,650–24,500, while resistance remains at 24,850–25,050. A breakout above the falling trend line may open the door for further upside, whereas failure to cross could keep movement sideways with a mild negative bias.

R2	54800
S1	53900
S2	53700

Bank Nifty opened strong and registered an intraday high of 54518.70, even surpassing the high of 4th Sept, but selling pressure in the second half dragged the index lower, leading to a close at 54,186 (-0.13%). The RSI is currently placed around 37, indicating weak momentum and highlighting the struggle to gain strength. This setup hints at a sideways bias, with resistance at the previous session's intraday high of 54,500–54,520 and support near 53,900–53,700, aligned with the 200-day EMA. Sustained trade above resistance could trigger recovery, while a breakdown below support may extend weakness.
