

Nifty50

Closing price	R1	R2	S1	S2
24378.10	24,500	25,000	24,000	23,800

The Nifty 50 is currently consolidating near a crucial resistance zone of 24,300–24,500 after a sharp pullback recovery. The index is facing rejection near the 20 and 50 EMA cluster, indicating supply pressure at higher levels. Momentum remains mildly positive with RSI hovering around 60, suggesting strength but not a confirmed breakout. A decisive close above 24,500 could trigger further upside towards 25,000–25,200. However, failure to sustain above this zone may lead to renewed selling, dragging the index towards immediate support at 24,000 and then 23,800. Overall, the structure suggests a cautious approach, with a wait-and-watch strategy until a clear breakout or breakdown confirmation.

Bank Nifty

Closing price	R1	R2	S1	S2
57124.45	57800	58500	56200	55400

NIFTY Bank Index closed with marginal gains, reflecting a tentative recovery phase. Price action is attempting to sustain above key EMAs (20/50/100), which is mildly positive, but the structure still lacks strong bullish confirmation. The Relative Strength Index is hovering in the mid-zone, indicating neutral momentum and absence of a clear trend. Near-term bias remains range-bound unless a decisive breakout occurs. Immediate resistance is placed at 57,800 and 58,500; a move above this zone could trigger further upside. On the downside, support is seen at 56,200 followed by 55,400.

Intraday call

Stock Name	Buy In Range	SL	TGT
TRIVENI	410-412	399	425

Triveni Engineering and Industries Limited is trading near CMP around ₹410–412 and is showing improving strength with price holding above key EMAs and RSI trending higher. A buy at CMP (₹410–412) can be considered with a stop-loss at ₹397, as this marks the recent swing support zone. On the upside, the stock can move towards ₹450 in the near term, with a breakout above ₹420–425 acting as a momentum trigger. Risk-reward remains favorable near current levels, but sustained move above trend line resistance is important for continuation of the bullish trend.

Delivery call

Stock Name	Buy In Range	SL	TGT
BALRAMPUR	530-535	520 _(closing basis)	555

Balrampur Chini Mills Limited has confirmed a double bottom breakout, indicating a shift from accumulation to bullish momentum. Price is sustaining above the neckline with strong volume support, while RSI is trending higher, reinforcing strength. Traders can consider buying on slight dips around ₹530–535 for better risk-reward. A short-term upside target ₹555–560 looks achievable, while maintaining a strict stop-loss of ₹520 to manage risk. The structure favors quick momentum trades, but chasing highs should be avoided—entries on minor pullbacks will provide a more favorable setup for this breakout continuation move.
